

KNOW JOY

Soon-to-be-classic Scottsdale souvenir: a camisole with demure stretch-velvet trim. Locally based fashion designer Joy Li has designed for such household-name labels as Liz Claiborne and Guess, and now has her own retail venture, Studio Joy Li, at The Mix at SouthBridge (p. 42). Women's sportswear offerings span yoga togs to power-lunch pairings; textures and flattering details are prevalent. What's more, Li's palette tends toward black, white and gray, making these "souvenirs" truly useful.

NOTA 'COFFEE' TABLE

Does anyone think this little table from Crate & Barrel (above) looks like a just-popped champagne cork? It's the "Rook" in a three-piece collection of chess-inspired side tables, but with a petite diameter of 13 inches, it's probably better suited to holding the glasses of an intimate cocktail party than it is to supporting a large checkered board. Size it up for yourself at either of two Scottsdale C&B stores (p. 43).

TIP OF THE MONTH

MALE PATTERNS Men's clothing comes in colors beyond blue and black. Make a classic impression while cutting a 21st-century profile in Zilli sportswear at Manzoni in Scottsdale (p. 42), or select a shirt in a hip pattern to pair with premium denim at Toff in Glendale (p. 41).

LIP SERVICE

It's a good time to start auditioning lipsticks for smooching your way through the summer of '08. Lipstick Queen — a primo brand from a witty, 1940s-obsessed creator — offers 10 select shades in both sheer and opaque versions. Professional makeup artist Diane Aiello picked up the whole line for Glam Lounge, her beauty boutique in downtown Scottsdale (p. 45).

Guidelines

There's no single shopping district in the Valley of the Sun, but several — in bustling downtown areas and outer desert reaches alike, each with its own personality and specialties.
